The course (the Entry Level Referee Award or ELRA) takes place over two full days (9:30 to 4:00) and includes classroom discussion and practical elements. The emphasis is on how to referee rather than what to referee. The better referees know when not to blow the whistle!

The programme for the day includes a practical element and covers the following:

- Referee Roles, Responsibilities and Attitudes
- Judgement and Materiality
- Safety
- Communication and Positioning
- Problem Areas/Theory into Practice
- Game Management and Control

Remember, without a Referee there really wouldn't be a game!
